

ALLELUIA, ALLELUIA!

THE practice for this holy season mainly consists in the spiritual joy which it should produce in every soul that is risen with Jesus. This joy is a foretaste of eternal happiness, and the Christian ought to consider it a duty to keep it up within him, ardently seeking after that life which is in our divine Head, and by carefully shunning sin which causes death. During the last nine weeks we have mourned for our sins and done penance for them; we have followed Jesus to Calvary; but now, our holy Mother the Church is urgent in bidding us rejoice. She herself has laid aside all sorrow; the voice of her weeping is changed into the song of a delighted Spouse.

No, nothing must now distract us from joy. These sweet and consoling words must be our Easter text: 'The children of the Bridegroom cannot mourn, as long as the Bridegroom is with them.' They are the key to this holy season. We shall find by experience that the joy of Easter is as salutary as the contrition and penance of Lent. Jesus on the cross, and Jesus in the Resurrection, it is ever the same Jesus; but what He wants from us now is that we should keep near Him, in company with His blessed Mother, His disciples, and Magdalen, who are in ecstasies of delight at His triumph, and have forgotten the sad days of His Passion.

But this Easter of ours will have an end; the bright vision of our risen Jesus will pass away; and all that will be left to us is the recollection of His ineffable glory, and of the wonderful familiarity wherewith He treated us. What shall we do, when He Who was our very life and light leaves us and ascends to heaven? Be of good heart, Christians! You, who before Easter were sinners, but have now returned to the life of grace, see that you die no more; let your actions bespeak your resurrection. And you to whom the Paschal solemnity has brought growth in grace, show this increase of more abundant life by your principles and your conduct. 'Tis thus all will walk in the newness of life.'

We shall see, more and more clearly, not only our duty of imitating our divine Master's Resurrection, but the magnificence of this grandest Mystery of the Man-God. Everything has been a preparation for Easter. The four thousand years that followed the promise made by God to our first parents were crowned by the event we now celebrate. All the Church has been doing for us from the commencement of Advent had this same glorious event in view; and now that we have come to it, our expectations are more than realized. The power and wisdom of God are brought before us so vividly that our former knowledge of them seems nothing in comparison with our present appreciation and love of them. The angels themselves are dazzled by the grand Mystery, as the Church tells us in one of her Easter hymns, where she says: 'The angels gaze with wonder on the change wrought in mankind: it was flesh that sinned, and now Flesh taketh all sin away, and the God Who reigns is the God made Flesh.'

ANNOUNCEMENTS

- Heartfelt wishes for a most Blessed Easter to all our parishioners! and a HUGE thank you to the choir and servers for all the time, effort, and help!
- Alleluia! Congratulations to Theresa Hall, who will receive her First Holy Communion at today's 1:00 Mass, and to Marko and Elicia Babac, whose baby Roko will receive the Sacrament of Baptism after the same Mass.
- Closing hymn: Regina Coeli, page 68, #25.

Alleluia, Alleluia! Let the holy anthem rise,
And the choirs of heaven chant it in the temple of the skies,
Let the mountains skip with gladness and the joyful valleys ring
With Hosannas in the highest to our Savior and our King!

Alleluia! Alleluia! He endured the knotted whips
And the jeering of the rabble, and the scorn of mocking lips,
And the terrors of the gibbet upon which He would be slain:
But His death was only slumber: He is risen up again!

Alleluia! Alleluia! Like the sun from out the wave
He has risen up in triumph from the darkness of the grave.
He's the Splendor of the nations, He's the Lamp of endless day,
He's the very Lord of Glory Who is risen up today!

Alleluia! Alleluia! He has burst our prison bars,
He has lifted up the portals of our home beyond the stars;
He has won for us our freedom, 'neath His feet our foes are trod;
He has purchased back our birthright to the Kingdom of our God!

Alleluia! Alleluia! Blessed Jesus, make us rise
From the life of this corruption to the life that never dies.
May we share with Thee Thy glory when the days of time are past
And the dead shall be awakened by the trumpet's mighty blast!
