From My Catholic Faith ... Month of the Holy Rosary: on Sacramentals

We should make use of sacramentals with faith and devotion, and never make them objects of superstition.

1. If we use sacramentals as they should be used, acknowledging the efficacy of the blessing of the Church which God Himself founded, our act will be pleasing to God, and the sacramentals will profit us. If we wear a crucifix or medal on our persons, hoping that by God's grace it will preserve us from evil, we are not superstitious; if one uses sacramentals as powerful in themselves, with no reference either to God, His Church, or his own state of grace, he is superstitious.

2. We should use sacramentals constantly. Every Christian home should have holy water and blessed candles. Every Christian should receive as many blessings as he can. Christians reverence and make use of sacramentals, and have firm confidence in the prayer of the Church to make them effective. Everybody, however holy, has need of all the help he can obtain from God.

3. A Catholic home should have a private altar before which the family assembles for prayers. It should have blessed images and a crucifix. Every room should have a crucifix. In many homes it is the custom to sprinkle the beds with holy water before retiring at night.

4. Whenever we are in trouble, pain, danger or temptation, the use of sacramentals is of great benefit. Every Catholic should own a blessed Rosary, and use it. Every Catholic, man, woman, boy, girl or child should wear a blessed crucifix, medal or scapular. It serves to remind the wearer in times of danger of the presence and the love of God.

The chief benefits obtained by use of sacramentals:

1. Actual graces, if used with proper dispositions: while in the state of grace, with firm faith and confidence.
2. Forgiveness of venial sins. Sacramentals excite good thoughts and inspire devotion and greater love of God, as well as greater sorrow for sin; this devotion and sorrow bring grace, and the grace thus obtained, in turn obtains the forgiveness of venial sins.
3. Remission of temporal punishment.
4. Health of body and material blessings. Innumerable are the examples of the extraordinary effects of sacramentals.

- Closing hymn for October: O Queen of the Holy Rosary, p 99, #56.

Pope Leo XIII, who composed the well-known prayer to St Michael the Archangel, composed and promulgated this prayer to St Joseph in his 1889 encyclical, Quamquam Pluries. He asked that it be recited at the end of the Rosary especially during October, "the month of the Holy Rosary."

To thee, O Blessed Joseph, we have recourse in our affliction; and having implored the help of thy thrice-holy Spouse, we now with hearts filled with confidence, earnestly beg thee also to take us under thy protection. By that charity wherewith thou wert united to the Immaculate Virgin, Mother of God, and by that fatherly love with which thou didst cherish the Child Jesus, we beseech thee and we humbly pray, thou thou wilt look down with gracious eye upon that inheritance which Jesus Christ purchased by His Blood, and wilt succour in our need by thy power and strength.

Defend, O most watchful Guardian of the Holy Family, the chosen offspring of Jesus Christ. Keep from us, O most loving Father, all blight of error and corruption. Aid us from on high, most valiant Defender, in this conflict with the powers of darkness. And even as of old thou didst rescue the Child Jesus from the peril of His life, so now defend God's Holy Church from the snares of the enemy and from all adversity. Shield us ever under thy patronage, that following thine example and strengthened by thy help, we may live a holy life, die a happy death, and attain to everlasting bliss in Heaven. Amen.
